Come sign up for Backpacks for Kids Food Program

The Backpacks for Kids Program provides income-eligible children with a bag of kid-friendly food each week during the school year. Food for People provides the food for the program and dedicated community volunteers pack and deliver the backpacks to each school site. Each bag contains enough food for breakfast, lunch, and dinner for two days.

Funding for Backpacks for Kids is provided by local service clubs, grants, and individual donors in the community. Volunteer support is donated by service clubs, local nonprofits and others who help the program run smoothly and efficiently. Backpacks for Kids is truly a collaborative effort, and it takes a community to make the program successful.

Families from the Rio Dell School District may come sign up for a bag for their child at the Community Resource Center located inside the Elementary School's main building.

River House Assisted Living

~ River House offers Beautiful Setting, Family Atmosphere ~

Rio Dell's River House offer's assisted living to elderly men and women in a spacious and beautiful home surrounded by gardens. Owners George and Peggy Patmore are both licensed residential care administrators, and have six residents.

"We know everyone personally, so things don't get by us," Peggy says of the facility's small size. "We are aware of their medications and notice any changes starting to happen with their health." Peggy adds she first got experience in elder care when her mom had a serious stroke 16 years ago. She helped her mom, who recovered and today lives independently.

The home, at 510 Painter Street, was built in the 1950's by the Bertain family, who ran dry cleaning and laundry businesses in Scotia and Fortuna. It has many rooms for their10 children, according to George. The Patmores, natives of Scotia, have spent their lives in Humboldt County. They purchased the home 17 years ago, and raised their four children their. Finding themselves with extra rooms as the children grew up, they began to open their home to others.

River House offers many socializing areas, and numerous windows offer views to colorful gardens and inviting outdoor spaces, which include bonsai plants maintained by one of the residents. Three dogs wag greetings, George banters with residents in the spacious kitchen, Peggy laughs as she introduces groups of visitors arriving in clusters up the circular, shaded drive on Sunday afternoon.

IMPORTANT PROCEDURE CHANGE at the Rio Dell/Scotia Pantry

Per USDA regulations, there is a procedure change that affects Scotia pantry food distributions. This policy change will become effective in September 2014, as noted below, and will continue every month thereafter. This change will affect the number of households we can serve each day. Please plan and make arrangements accordingly.

There will no longer be set days for clients to receive their commodities based on last name alphabetical order. Distribution will be conducted through walk in appointments, on a first come-first served basis. There is a limit to how many households can be served on each day.

Effective September 2014, the pantry distribution hours and households served will be as follows:

Thursday, 9/18/14: Pantry opens at 10 a.m. Pantry closes after the first 75 household appointments are served OR 12 noon, whichever comes first.

Friday, 9/19/14: Pantry opens at 10 a.m. Pantry closes after the first 75 household appointments are served OR 12 noon, whichever comes first.

The amount of food distributed to clients is not changing. There will be equal portions of bread and produce distributed both Thursday and Friday; starting at 10 a.m. on a first come-first served basis.

Please be patient with the volunteer staff who are working hard to help you!

Thank you for your attention and we appreciate your cooperation. The volunteers at Bread for Life look forward to serving the households of Scotia and Rio Dell.

David Griffith, Sr., is a man on a mission. The Rio Dell native, an avid walker, became disgusted by the frequency with which he saw cigarette butts left on the city streets and sidewalks. So, he decided to do something about it. He collected about 40 large coffee cans, painted them white, and set them out where he found lots of butts on Wildwood Avenue, Rio Dell's main street. Griffith has been doing this for a few months now, and collects the butts from the streets and sidewalks as well as the cans, while he walks his dog, bringing the trash bag full of his work to the city council meetings.

Griffith, who quit smoking nearly 30 years ago, remembers an earlier time when people took more pride in the appearance of the city. "People used to sweep their walks and not litter," he recalls, reporting that some days he finds a couple dozen new butts on the sidewalks the day after he cleaned up the old ones. He would like to see the city stiffen its stance against littering, to help keep the city looking good for visitors and residents alike. "At Ruth Lake, the CDF fines people $1000 for tossing out a cigarette butt" he notes.

He vows to keep up his project, and is expanding to Scotia, where he notes there are also tossed butts and businesses eager for his help.
